Message from the Chair

On the 31st of January 2022, Minister Helen McEntee opened the Regularisation Scheme for Long Term Undocumented. This scheme was life changing for thousands of people, delivering a positive impact in communities all across the country.

The scheme was the result of eleven years of campaigning with Justice for Undocumented for a pathway to papers for migrants who have been living here long term. Huge time and energy were put into communicating the regularisation scheme, training community members on the scheme criteria and one to one casework to assist people to apply. We are very proud of this work.

As the world began to return to normal after the pandemic, the war in Ukraine suddenly erupted. With over 62,000 refugees arriving in Ireland throughout the year, the most pressing issue was accommodating such large numbers at speed. At the same time, a small number of far-right actors, began to spread hate in local communities. MRCI joined the Ukraine Civil Society Forum and grew our work through the Far-Right Observatory to respond.

By the end of 2022, over 40,000 new employment permits were issued, tripling the amount issued in 2021. In 2022 the government extended general employment permits to care and homecare workers, meat workers, construction workers, healthcare assistants, haulage drivers, dairy workers, and bus and coach drivers. This has had a big impact and our work in this area is therefore set to grow.

We had promising progress in relation to reform of employment permits and secured Ministerial Agreement in the Employment Permits Bill to make it easier for general employment permit holders to change employer.

After eight years calling for a new identification system for victims of trafficking, the government launched its Heads of Bill to give effect to a new system called the National Referral Mechanism. MRCI has worked hard to ensure that our priorities for victims of trafficking are included in this Bill.

We continued to deliver specialist information and supports through the Drop-in Centre. We are providing training, and mentoring supports to worker leaders in the meat sector and homecare sectors to develop their skills and capacity in organising.

We were deeply honoured to receive the John O'Connell award from NUIM Maynooth, for Outstanding Contribution to Social Justice and Equality as part of their 40 years of change celebrations. We were also delighted to hold another amazing Gala to celebrate with members of Justice for Undocumented.

These important achievements would not be possible without the amazing work of the staff, team, board, volunteers, community members, funders, donors, and supporters, and we sincerely thank them all.

We want to give special thanks to all who gave so generously in 2022. So many people helped undocumented individuals and families to pay for the regularisation scheme and helped to raise over €57,000 for Mohammed Younis in his fight for justice. This has truly changed lives.

We look forward to 2023; to providing supports to people seeking assistance on employment permits; to advancing equality in the employment permit system; to securing rights for victims of trafficking for labour exploitation; and to empowering workers to organise in agri-food and homecare. We will meet the challenges of 2023 with determination, passion and creativity.

Chair

Our Vision, Mission, and Values

From its inception, MRCI's emphasis on community work has been critical in bringing about the empowerment and participation of migrant workers on issues that concern them.

Community work is concerned with addressing the root causes of inequality through collective action for change. Core to our theory of change is supporting migrants in low wage work to organise, engage in and lead on issues that affect their lives. We operate a sophisticated structure that combines a front-line service, building the capacity of migrant workers by using a community work process, and engaging in strategic public awareness, policy, and advocacy.

Our Vision

Our vision is for an open, equal, just and diverse society where migrant workers and their families can move, work and live in dignity.

Our Values

- People closest to the struggle are closest to the solution.
- People acting collectively make change possible.
- People lead when they have the tools to do so.

Our Mission

Grounded in social justice, anti-racism and equality, our mission is to empower migrant workers in low-paid and precarious work to secure and advance their rights through collective action.

Tackling Severe Exploitation and Trafficking for Labour Exploitation

Exploitation across a number of sectors including restaurants, agriculture and in the private home continued to grow. After eight years calling for a new identification system, the government launched its Heads of Bill to give effect to a new National Referral Mechanism, which will be put on a statutory footing for the first time. The Bill proposes a role for NGOs (with government departments and agencies) around identification.

Mohammad Younis

After 20 years in Ireland, and 13 years fighting to enforce an award of €91,000, Mohammad never saw a penny of what he is owed.

Mohammad had come to Ireland to work as a Chef in a Dublin restaurant in 2002. On arrival, he was forced to work 11 hours a day, seven days a week. He earned just €0.55 cents an hour. For the first three years working in Ireland, Mohammad only had one day off per year on Christmas day.

His employer did not renew his work permit and Mohammad became undocumented. He was living in overcrowded accommodation, and his employer constantly threatened him with deportation while holding on to his passport. He was bullied, abused and exploited.

For seven years, he only worked, ate and slept. After seven years living like this, Mohammad bravely came forward and spoke out. He brought a case against his employer and was awarded €91,000 for unpaid wages. Mohammad was left with nothing. As he turned 68 with his health failing, with no hope of compensation from the state insolvency fund which pointed to his lack of immigration status while in work, MRCI launched a fundraising appeal to get Mohammad home.

Highlights in 2022

- MRCI launched a funding raising appeal, which went well beyond what we had hoped to raise. Nearly 1,600 people donated to Crowdfunder raising over €57,000
- MRCI advanced the lodging of a complaint to the Council of Europe in his case.

Empowering Migrant Workers

Worker Empowerment in Agri-food

In 2022 MRCI grew and strengthened its work across the country with meat processing workers. The number of non-EU migrant workers with employment permits in the sector continues to grow and stands at approximately 3,500 workers up from 2,000 in 2021. The majority of permit holders in the sector are from Brazil (60%).

Highlights in 2022

- Outreach and development work took place with workers in eighteen meat processing plants.
- Worker leaders and committees received education, training, and mentoring supports towards developing their skills and capacity in organising and raising critical issues with their employer.
- Ten groups have begun and continued ongoing direct engagement with their employer.
- Gains and improvements in conditions (overtime, pay rates, breaks, health and safety) have been made for hundreds of workers in at least ten of the facilities.

Worker Empowerment in Homecare - My Fair Home

My Fair Home (MFH) is the only space in Ireland for migrant homecare workers to connect and organise. Many MFH members were undocumented and applied to the regularisation scheme. Active members were deeply involved in supporting others to apply to the scheme. By November 2022, many carers in MFH had gotten their papers, and were moving to change employers.

Highlights in 2022

- Training held with 77 attendees on Know Your Rights for carers including negotiation skills.
- Facilitated the Great Care Co-op to come and talk to 35 newly regularised workers.
- MFH core group met 12 times and had 4 network meetings in 2022.
- Reflection and planning day held in October.

Making Employment Permits Fairer

In 2022 MRCI continued its work to gain parity of rights for all people who come to work in Ireland on employment permits. We continued to focus these efforts around the upcoming legislation on employment permits.

This included securing a simple way for people on general employment permits to change employer as a protection from poor conditions and exploitation. It also included advocating against the introduction of seasonal permits and pushing for strong protections for workers. We continued to seek the right to work for spouses and dependents of general employment permit and to seek better family reunion rights.

Highlights in 2022

- Amendments proposed by three TDs at committee stage that speak directly to MRCI asks re change of employer and seasonal permits.
- Minister English made a commitment at Committee Stage of the Bill to introduce an amendment to make it easier for employment permit holders to change employer while remaining on their existing permit.
- We began to engage with people affected by this campaign. By the end of 2022 we had recruited 84 general employment permit holders into the campaign.

Justice Gala 2022

MRCI Gala was held on 7th October in the Convention Centre Dublin, with 455 attendees. This was a celebration of a victorious year for Justice for Undocumented and there was great splendour on the night. It was a wonderful night full of dancing, great food, with an amazing band - Back to Basics. Senator Eileen Flynn was the guest speaker on the night and the MCs were Imelda Morano and Tjanasi Potso. Jayson Montenegro and Champa Wanniarachchi, as founder members of JFU gave a beautiful speech outlining the 11 years campaigning for a regularisation scheme and what the scheme means to them and all the people who were regularised.

The Bobby Gilmore Fellowship

In 2022, our two fellows Imelda Morano and Albert Bello, active members in Justice for the Undocumented and My Fair Home finished up their fellowship, but not without leaving their mark on the work and the organisation. They will be missed.

The Great Care Co-op

The Great Care Co-op (GCC) is a social enterprise supported by MRCI and led by migrant women to deliver a new model of local and community-based homecare. MRCI provided organisational development supports to its board. A huge success is the fact that the organisation became fully independent of MRCI in September 2022.

Growing Reach

Growing our Supporters Network and Communications

In 2022, we strengthened our supporter engagement and continued to keep people up to date on changes and developments through regular and accessible posts on our website and social media. MRCI made headlines in the national press on pressing issues around the Regularisation Scheme, trafficking for labour exploitation and an unequal employment permit system.

- We published five blogs by migrant workers, using digital tools to amplify their voices.
- Developed and launched a new webpage with clear information on supports for people fleeing Ukraine.

Rise-Up Project

The Rise-Up (Rights, Innovation, Solutions and Evidence Based Policy for Undocumented People) project, was wrapping up in 2022. This two-year project funded by the European Programme for Integration and Migration (EPIM) shared good practice on advocacy and campaigning to improve the capacity of organisations to advance regularisation campaigns across Europe.

Highlights in 2022

- We coordinated and delivered our second Learning Exchange with nine other organisations across Europe. The focus was on better communications on irregular migration and regularisation, community development approaches and the involvement of undocumented people in campaigning for change.
- We collated evidence for a policy brief highlighting the best examples of large scale regularisations in Europe since 2009
